—WORK FOR WOMEN—

THE work of women in the present campaign will accomplish more in the reformation of national conditions than any other factor has accomplished during the past quarter of a century.

All over the nation the women are organizing and working loyally for the Progressive party. The platform of principles enunciated by that party pleases them.

Women, as a rule, are not great students of the tariff, the currency, the industrial development and all these varied and perplexing problems, but when you get near to human nature—when you talk of the conservation of human resources and of material or political conditions which make for the betterment of boys and girls and men and women, you are talking to them of something which represents their very existence.

It touches the heartstrings of the mother instinct.

It reaches to that wonderful fundamental thing—the building of races rather than the building of fortunes.

This year the women of Colorado can exert effort in behalf of the better things of politics—the fundamental things of government—let the women of El Paso county read this summarized platform of the Progressive party and realize what it means to them.

The supreme duty of the nation is the conservation of human resources through an enlarged measure of social and industrial justice. We pledge ourselves to work on existing in state and nation for:

riety of merchandise of all description. The question of price has been proved time and time again in favor of Colorado Springs. Residents have ordered goods by mail or have bought them on shopping tours to Denver, only to find that they paid as much or more for the same article they could have obtained right here, to say nothing of the mail or express charges or the railroad fare, as the case may be.

DISADVANTAGES OF TRADING OUT OF TOWN.
The out-of-town purchaser has to wait several days before the article arrives. If it does not give satisfaction, he cannot go down town and exchange it. He must wait until it is shipped back and possibly substituted by another article. We use the word "possibly," advisedly, for no mail-order house or other out-of-town firm will give the same satisfaction or live up to its guarantee so well as a reliable firm, well known personally by the patron.

There are cases in which an article may be purchased at a lower price out of town than in Colorado Springs. But this condition prevails in every city in the United States. Undoubtedly a resident of Chicago may buy something or other at less cost in New York, and the New Yorker may run across some commodity that sells lower in Boston than in the metropolis. These exceptions, however, are by no means a criterion of the general condition of affairs. It is safe to say that the slight saving in cost effected in isolated instances through out-of-town buying is more than offset by economies in the general run of purchases at home.

Not only in fairness to the community in which we live, but in actual justice to ourselves, business loyalty is imperative.

author's who gain a ready acceptance of their contributions make a poor living at it. The successful writer cannot keep up such a gain as will guarantee him an income of more than a few hundreds of dollars a month. The sensational success is not to be considered, for sensational success in all branches of effort are so rare as to be inconsequential in the broad view. Occasionally a writer gains remarkable success with a book or a magazine article. Not once in a thousand times is this success duplicated and the subsequent career of such an author is a pathetic list of failures. Newspaper writers on salaries are the most successful of all those who write for a living. They have a regular and dependable income, and while there are no special honors to be gained in this work it is gaining in recognition and dignity. But the newspaper writer makes no claim to being a producer of "literature." He is a worker who gets down to the practical side of things. He finds no pleasure in the society of "authors," nor is he an inspiring ornament to such company. But he knows one thing that thousands of "authors" will never find out—that there is no short road to success in the writing field and that writing is a business of daily hard work and not a beautiful world of fancy.

UNIFORM MARRIAGE LAWS

From the Kansas City Journal.

The American Bar association, which has been investigating through a committee the subject of uniformity in marriage laws, has formally recommended the passage of such legislation as will involve universal provisions regulating marriage. One of the interesting features of the measure which will be urged upon the several states will abolish the so-called "common law" marriage, which has been recognized for scores of years.

Probably no step could be taken which would go farther toward solving the twin evils of unwise marriages and frequent divorce than the enactment of nation-wide laws which will be uniform in the provisions. If such laws are supplemented by uniform divorce laws the evils will be reduced to a minimum. Both marriage and divorce are matters affecting in their most vital manner the citizens of every state in the Union and there is no good reason whatever for any conflict, confusion or diversity in the laws governing the domestic relation. The present system of patch-work legislation on these subjects is a reflection on the intelligence of the people who tolerate it. One state permits what another state prohibits. The same act is a felony in one state a misdemeanor in another and entirely legal in still another. An imaginary line between two states ought not to divide into two classes and sometimes three or four, persons who do the same thing. If a given offense is grossly improper and against sound public policy in one state it is grossly improper and against sound public policy in every other state and should be so regarded by the laws of such state.

But even a recommendation by the American Bar association and the enactment of uniform legislation in 48 states there is a wide gap of time and effort. The necessity for uniformity in laws affecting the married relation has been recognized for a great many years but comparatively little progress has thus far been made in the direction of making the recognition effective. It is hoped that the campaign inaugurated by the American Bar association, representing the best thought of the bench and bar of the nation, will produce effective results in the not distant future.

A Disagreeable Type

By RUTH CAMERON.

"Speak well of thy neighbor or not at all. Not long ago I had the pleasure of meeting a man who had been traveling for many years as the ship's doctor on one of the maritime steamers. It seemed to me that in the double capacity of doctor and traveler he must have met many unusual people. So one day I asked him to tell me about some of them."

"Well, Miss Cameron, he said, 'I was a party of four who sailed on a table-top trip ago that bear anything I ever struck. Now maybe you will believe this, but I sat there with the four 15 meals and in all that time I never heard one of those people say a good word about anybody. They talked everybody on the boat and every body on the land and they made fun of them and talked a scandal about them and ran them down generally. They had a bad word for every officer and every steward on the ship and what they said about each other when any of them was rash enough to leave the table first was a caution."

"The other day I wrote a letter from one of my letter friends and promptly brought the ship's doctor."

"Some day will you please write something to me about individualism as it is requested by me or respondent. I am going to give you a few questions except for names. This individualism is my own doing, not a name. I was a one morning watching for the post in N. M. which was on a similar errand at her front door. A white-haired woman with whom I had once been once acquainted and found to be a made housewife, passed by. I remarked to my neighbor on the pleasant effect of her costume. 'Don't you think it is awfully loud?' 'I don't believe she is much good either,' she said, 'I wouldn't say a word of germ about the woman for the world, but I have seen things that didn't look just right to me.'"

"Just then a neighbor passed drawing some chicken feed in a child's wagon. She had been to the market and gotten it cheaper. Look at that, said my neighbor, 'I think I would be hard up before I'd haul chicken feed through the street.'"

"Did you know, Mrs. I had gone to the Springs?" was the next remark. "Mrs. I'm afraid I don't know her. Don't you remember that woman who went up the aisle at church last Sunday with her belt pulled away from her skirt?" I had to admit that I had not noticed. "I could keep this up indefinitely, but I have some regard for your time."

My letter friend suggests that I write something condemning these people.

I don't see much need of it. Do you?

It seems to me they are self-condemned. No one who doesn't belong to their rank has any use for them, and even those who do, talk about them behind their backs, for there is no honor among character thieves."

But one thing I do suggest. Conditions like these are a blemish. These people aren't always as bad as that. They must have gradually grown worse. Now hadn't you and I better see to it that we never make the first start towards such a beginning?"

OCTOBER

By GEORGE FITCH.
Author of "At Good Old, Siwash"

October is a serious, thoughtful month, which happens after September and just before the coal question becomes intense. It is not naturally an exciting period, but has been made so artificially in America by the invention of football, the open season for hunting, the world's championship baseball games, and the closing of the political campaigns.

Because of these four things, October produces more cases of heart failure, pocketbook failures, sore throat, broken ribs and buckshot in the face than any other month, and rivals July in the work of the physicians.

In October vegetation closes up the year's business and retires into winter quarters. The fields become brown, and the summer girl takes off her $250 coat of tan with lemon juice and writes for samples of the latest society pink. October usually begins as cold as an emotional actress before a small house but warms up by noon and becomes rarely and pensively beautiful until 6 p. m., when dusk begins and the thermometer begins to slide like the Brooklyn baseball team in July. By 7 o'clock the American husband is usually in the cellar chopping up an old chair for fuel. October is a frail month as far as heat goes, and has no vitality at all.

In October the leaves become red and gold and the smoky flames on the hills, while the corn husker rolls out at 6 a. m. and picks corn until his thumb throbs like an overdue tooth. The blare of the brass band and the hoarse shriek of the orator shake the land at night while the afternoon's earnest fulfillment pulls his knee out of his opponents' legs and picks the teeth out of it with a fox shriek of pain.

October is of no great use to humanity, but helps fill up the year, and enables us to forget the approach of winter by the use of its celebrated Indian summer, which is a slight rally of the fast sinking thermometer towards the close of the month. Americans should treat October with great respect because it was in this month that Columbus first looked upon America and took back his glowing reports to Spain. Think what he might have said about it if he had found it in January. (Copyrighted by George Mathew Adams.)

GOING BACK TO DAYS OF OLD FIRE FIGHTERS

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—New York has gone back to the days of the straw chokers fire volunteer. Its millions of dollars worth of fire fighting equipment together with its ranks of trained fire fighters has been forgotten and the red shirts and side whistles of the ancient and almost extinct vanguard have been brought prominently to the attention of its citizens.

The scene of this renaissance was centered in Madison Square Garden where a fireman's carnival has been inaugurated as a feature of the annual exposition and conference of fire protection and extinguishment, October 2 to 12.

Here the old hose carts and ladder trucks in use when the metropolis was in its infancy have been placed beside some of the most expensive and effective fire fighting apparatus in the modern world. Awards have also been announced for the feats of drinking and agility of the commanders of these ancient vehicles and the exhibition of old and modern fire fighting has been placed on the program.

In addition to these features, the exposition, manufacturers of fighting apparatus and safety devices from all parts of the United States and Europe have arranged to exhibit:

QUEER WAX OF OREGON

From the Oregon Weekly.

Nehalem wax is the name of a somewhat mysterious product found on the beach near the mouth of the Nehalem river in Oregon. It was discovered by the early explorers of the coast. Later, considerable deposits were found in the sand of the beach. In 1846 several tons of this queer, wax-like substance were shipped to Hawaii and since then many tons of it have been sent to northeastern markets.

Opinion is divided concerning the nature and origin of this substance. Some hold that it is a mineral substance called ozocerite. It is generally found in large, rectangular blocks. It has a honeylike aroma when freshly cut.

Examination made in the laboratory of a western university shows that the substance closely approaches beeswax in composition and does not accord with the properties of ozocerite. This conclusion, oddly enough, favors an Indian legend of the wreck of a ship at the mouth of the Nehalem before the coming of the white men. A Spanish ship with supplies for the Catholic missions in the north sailed from Lower California in 1760 and was never afterward heard from.

MINISTERS FAVOR DAY OF REST BILL, AS DRAWN

Immediate action on the proposed day of rest ordinance by the city council is requested by the Ministerial association, which met yesterday and discussed the revised law. The following resolution was passed by the association, which was sent to the council:

"The Ministerial association, being convinced that the passage of the day of rest ordinance in its present carefully prepared form, will work hardships to none, and that countless physical and moral benefits will result from its adoption; and

"Since the people have so strongly endorsed this measure through labor organizations, associations, societies and churches, we urge the publication and passage of this ordinance without further delay."

Whether any action will be taken by the council at the meeting tomorrow morning is not known. The ministers urge a referendum vote if the council refuses to pass the ordinance as revised.

MISS BOGARDUS GIVES TALK AT ANTLERS TODAY

The first of a series of three informal discourses on "The Women of the French Salon," which are to be given this week by Miss Harriet M. Bogardus of New York city, will take place this morning at 11 o'clock in the parlors of the Antlers hotel. At 10:45 there will be a musical program, when Miss Patsy Ann Epperson of Louisville, Ky., will sing two of Guy d'Hardelot's songs, "Sans Telle" and "I Know a Lovely Garden." Miss Bogardus' subject today will be "The Ethics and Aesthetics of Conversation." Wednesday she will talk on the "Origin and Development of the Salon," and the last of the salons, Friday morning, will be given over to a discussion of "Seven Representative Salon Leaders."

These lectures, which are given in English, are the result of many years study by Miss Bogardus, both here and abroad, and are educational as well as interesting. Many of the most prominent society women of the city are acting as patronesses, so the success of the salons is practically assured.

INSTITUTE TO BOOM FORWARD MOVEMENT

One of a series of institutes being conducted by Bishop W. F. McConnell, Methodist bishop of Denver, to promote activities in the Methodist churches of this state, will begin next Tuesday night in the First Methodist church in this city. Bishop McConnell will preach the opening sermon of the conference. The meeting will be continued through Wednesday, when round table conferences will be held. Wednesday evening a supper will be served to the visiting delegates.

The 40 churches of the Colorado Springs district will be represented each by one district and one-day delegate. It is the hope of Bishop McConnell, who succeeded Bishop Warren as head of this diocese, that the meetings he is conducting in various parts of the state will prove beneficial to the different churches, and arouse their interest in various phases of church activity.

800 DEER HUNTERS
START FROM SPRINGS

The open season on deer is now on, having begun at midnight last night. Thousands of hunters are out, between 300 and 500 going from this city alone during the last two days. And almost as many of the game warden's deputies are out to prevent possible infractions of the law. For the rules say that each hunter may carry only one deer, and that one must have horns. This also explains why so many of the hunters are carrying field glasses.

The season closes October 6. Among those who left during the last two days were the following, outfitted by the Lucas-Downs Sporting Goods company:

Steamboat Springs—F. H. Snider, Ellwood Terry.
Yampa—J. T. Leonard, F. J. Cantowine, E. F. Martin, Orin G. Lucius.

Elk Creek—Carl Swanson, L. N. Douglas, G. W. Lee.

MELLEN ASKS REHEARING IN PALMER ESTATE CASE

A petition for a rehearing of the suit of the executors of and the heirs to the estate of William J. Palmer vs. Clark Mellen and the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company was filed in the district court yesterday by attorneys for Mellen. Under the provisions of Palmer's will Mellen was to be released from all debts to the Palmer estate. He contends that this operates to release him from paying $50,000 which he claims was a loan to him from Palmer, but which the estate asserts was a sort of trust fund in business venture. More than a year ago it was decided in the local district court that it was a trust deed, and Mellen's present petition for a rehearing is based on new evidence which he says tends to show the money was a loan. He offers in support of his petition the affidavit of R. J. Verner, a contractor, formerly of this city, which tells of certain words of General Palmer to this effect, and a letter from William J. Palmer to George A. Krause, tending to uphold his contention.

Word has been received here of the marriage last Tuesday in Los Angeles of Edwin Draper, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Draper, 322 South Nevada avenue, and Miss Estella Neeley, daughter of the Rev. J. Mr. and Mrs. Draper will reside at 543 North Oxford avenue, Los Angeles.

ALL YOU NEED-IS A CASCARET TONIGHT.

No Sick Headache, Biliary Stomach, Coated Tongue or Constipated Bowels by Morning

Turn the rascals out—the headache, the biliousness, the indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a "lazy" liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach. Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse and regulate your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food that makes misery-making gas; take the explosive from your liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love to take Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

NOTICE IN THE GAZETTE BRINGS SPEEDY RESULTS

City Clerk Charles Chapman inserted a paid local in The Gazette yesterday morning, saying that the city license inspector would start out this week to bring into court all those who had not paid their dog tax for 1912. As a result the dog license business was good all day yesterday at the city hall. Sixteen licenses were paid, the money taken in amounting to $35. The license inspector will start out early this morning to check up on the delinquents.

FORTY-SEVEN MARRIAGE LICENSES IN SEPTEMBER

Including all marriage licenses issued yesterday, 47 were given out by the county clerk during the month of September. Of the 94 people being licensed to marry, 24 had been married before, and one of them a woman, twice before. Eleven of these 24 had lost their former mates by the divorce route. Divorces were fewer this month than usual. Figures in the district court were not available, but in the county court only four were granted, where the list usually mounts up to 12 or 14 a month.

RAILROAD ADVERTISERS
HERE ON PLEASURE TRIP

The first of a series of entertainments for the railway advertising men who will be guests of the city for the next few days was held yesterday, when several of the visiting ad men were taken to Cripple Creek. The advertising committee of the Chamber of Commerce has charge of the entertainment and expects to keep the railroad men busy seeing the sights while here. In the party are a number of men who were here at the meeting last fall.

The various municipal improvements and points of scenic interest will be visited to let the advertising men become acquainted with the material they use in boosting the region. Several business meetings will be held at the Antlers hotel, where they have their headquarters. Several more are expected to arrive today.

Have your pass put in before the cold weather comes. Hedrick Wall Paper & Paint Co., 212 N. Tejon.

INDIAN SUMMER

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN.

any record, to refer to Indian summer was then Josiah Hamar, who in his journal of his expedition against the Mamoo Indians in 1760, uses the term three times. This occurred in October, however, the last mention being dated October 21, when he records "Fine clear weather. Indian summer. Marched and halted a little while at what is called Sugar camp, from thence to Caesar's creek, a branch of the Little Miami." In 1794 Major Ebenezer Denny's military journal also records Indian summer in October and the term is used by two Frenchmen who traveled in America, one of them, Volney, giving considerable attention to the subject as a climatic phenomenon peculiar to America. These seem to be the only known mentions of the term before the year 1800.

Term Much Used.

Since then, however, almost every record has been made of the term, and its use has not been confined to this country but extended into England and even to other countries. When the late Queen Victoria reached her eighteenth birthday, Alfred, the poet laureate, addressed to her a birthday poem entitled "An Indian Summer," in which are the lines: "Long may the Indian summer of your days, set linger in the land you love so well." All of the American poets have used the term frequently, although Longfellow and Whitler have perhaps done most to make it familiar.

The origin of the term is much disputed, and probably never will be known. One plausible theory is that it came from the harvesting of the Indian maize or corn, which was long after the harvest of the European grains. Another is the Indian legend given us by Longfellow in Hiawatha, who describes Saawondawee, the owner of the south wind, whose autumn sigh gave the mild weather and whose smoking tobacco pipe, the smoky haze. In other nations, however, there is a mild period looked for after the first cold of autumn. This is known by many titles, none of which seems to have become so popular as the Indian summer of America. In England it has been known as Allhallow summer. The term St. Martin's summer originated in France, but it is also much used in England and both correspond with the Indian summer of America. The Lombardy peasants expect always a few fine days at the end of October which they call St. Teresa's summer, while the Germans call it Allweiber summer. The Swedes give it the title of St. Lutjeg's summer, the Hungarians the Summer of St. Wenceslaus and, it is reported, that in the Argentine Republic there is a period of similar weather known as St. John's summer. News of Local Courts

A Strachan and E. Ryan were fined $5 each for drunkenness in public place yesterday, and were committed to jail in default of payment.

A. P. Gabel was fined $5 and put in jail yesterday for driving an automobile on South Cheyenne canyon.

Tena Griffin, an employee in a local cafeteria, who is charged with the theft of clothes valued at $25, has confessed to stealing $15 from a fellow employee, and has returned the money. She has yet to stand trial for the alleged theft of the clothes.

Mitchell, president and treasurer, respectively, of the German-American Indemnity company, for $3,500, for damages he alleges he sustained in a stock transaction with that company.

CLAY PRODUCTS CO. WILL SHIP BRICK TO KANSAS

The National Clay Products company yesterday received an order for seven carloads of brick which will be used in the erection of a Carnegie library in Goodland, Kan. NO ONE STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

The celebrated Dr. Abernethy of London was firmly of the opinion that disorders of the stomach were the most prolific source of human ailments in general. A recent medical writer says: "every feeling, emotion and affection reports at the stomach (through the system of nerves) and the stomach is affected accordingly. It is the vital center of the body."

"He continues, 'so we may be said to live (through) the stomach.' He goes on to show that the stomach is the vital center of the body. For weak stomachs and the consequent indigestion or dyspepsia, and the multitude of various diseases which result therefrom, no medicine can be better suited as a curative agent than

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

"Several months ago I suffered from a severe pain right under the breast bone," writes Mrs. G. M. MURKIN, of Corona, Calif. "I had suffered from it, off and on, for several years. I also suffered from heart worry, did not know what was the matter with me. I tried several medicines but they did me no good. Finally, I was told it was my liver. I did not dare to eat as it made me worse. When I saw advertised anything it seemed that I would faint—it hurt so. I grew very thin and weak from not eating. Was told to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took five bottles of it, and could feel myself getting better from the first dose. I could eat a little without pain and grew strong fast. Today I am strong and well and can do a big day's work with ease. Can eat everything and have put on flesh wonderfully. I will say to all sufferers write to Dr. Pierce. He has my undying gratitude."

and now more than ever, exclude the proper cooperation of these parties with our people for the betterment of our social, political and economic conditions. We have waited in vain for relief. Democratic misgovernment exhibited in wasteful and extravagant sessions and extra sessions, and Republican administrative infidelity to popular government and the people's will have been so long and glaringly manifest that a free people revolted at the mere suggestion of the possibility of such continued ascendancy and practices.

The time clearly and imperatively demands a new and square deal, of honest fair play, for the men, women and children of Colorado by a party of action, unswayed by degraded political betrayals and inspired by the new, just and world-wide crusade for human rights and equal opportunities, which must be translated into our public life and service if our civilization is to be lifted to the heights of its destiny, its proper demands and its necessities. For these reasons, the Progressive party of Colorado, under the national leadership of Roosevelt and Johnson, appeals for support in the impending election to the conscience, heart and intelligence of all our people.

Oil company of Indiana, despite the dissolution order of the United States supreme court.

Beginning with a date in December, 1911, Mr. Stahl was questioned closely by recording all directors' meetings of the Standard Oil company of Indiana.

He said that a board of five directors, who personally owned but 17 shares of stock in the Indiana corporation, voted $695 proxies, when the capital stock of the concern was increased from $17,000,000 to $30,000,000.

"No I never thought of consulting Mr. Rockefeller in the matter," said Mr. Stahl, in reply to a question, "I have not seen Mr. Rockefeller for 15 years," he continued. "We didn't pay any attention to him at all."

How were Mr. Rockefeller's holdings in the Standard Oil company of Indiana affected by the increased capitalization? Mr. Stahl was asked.

"Mr. Rockefeller owned 2,452 shares in the company when it was capitalized at $17,000,000. When the capital was increased to $30,000,000, he automatically became holder of 74,460 shares. The additional stock was voted to stockholders just in the same manner that a dividend would be declared."

DENVER, Sept. 30. Register Ford of the U. PRUSS COMMENTS

"Running through the plot is a wonderful human interest appeal."—Philadelphia Evening Star.

"This drama affords amusement, excites interest and causes merriment, a triangular proposition that is bound to win. The author, who will be remembered for his 'HOUSE OF A THOUSAND CANDLES' and 'ROSA-LIND AT RED GATE' and numerous other plays which won distinct success, has probably done his best work in 'BARRIERS BURNED AWAY.'—Philadelphia Evening Item.

It has been made into a drama of intensely moving interest by George Middleton and bears every mark of experienced dramatic craftsmanship. The third act is a fine piece of stage writing and the climax at the end is so thrilling that the audience applauds before the act has ended, just out of sheer excitement."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

"It is altogether a good, clean, well-written and at times powerful play—plenty of sentiment and situations thrown in."—Philadelphia North American.

"George Middleton has constructed a piece that contains both theatrical effectiveness and sentimental appeal, as well as a mixture of humor and emotion, with the element of suspense prominent."—Philadelphia Evening Telegraph.

"How the great Chicago fire destroyed the barriers and brought happiness to those deserving it is ably portrayed on the stage."—Philadelphia Record.

"Should please nothing short of crowded houses for the entire stay of the production at the Chestnut Street Theater."—Philadelphia Evening Times.

"Thrilling scenes come when everything seems tangled beyond repair."—Philadelphia Press.

"The story of the great Chicago fire was just as thrillingly told on the stage as between the covers of the book, and the climax brings with it a wave of applause in which tears are not unmixed."—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

"It is a realistic portrayal of a common, every-day subject and it is treated in a manner by the dramatist that calls forth warm commendation."—Philadelphia Post.

"The play is naturally dramatic, but in addition to its stirring situations and climaxes there is interwoven a genuine heart-interest story which necessarily gives the drama a wide appeal."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

"The fire scene is very effective."—Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

Oil company of Indiana, despite the dissolution order of the United States supreme court.

Beginning with a date in December, 1911, Mr. Stahl was questioned closely by recording all directors' meetings of the Standard Oil company of Indiana.

He said that a board of five directors, who personally owned but 17 shares of stock in the Indiana corporation, voted $695 proxies, when the capital stock of the concern was increased from $17,000,000 to $30,000,000.

"No I never thought of consulting Mr. Rockefeller in the matter," said Mr. Stahl, in reply to a question, "I have not seen Mr. Rockefeller for 15 years," he continued. "We didn't pay any attention to him at all."

How were Mr. Rockefeller's holdings in the Standard Oil company of Indiana affected by the increased capitalization? Mr. Stahl was asked.

"Mr. Rockefeller owned 2,452 shares in the company when it was capitalized at $17,000,000. When the capital was increased to $30,000,000, he automatically became holder of 74,460 shares. The additional stock was voted to stockholders just in the same manner that a dividend would be declared."

The companies filed affidavits claiming to secure tunnel rights. The government is seeking to have these set aside because the land is not national bearing.

Marine band next Monday afternoon. Tickets on sale Wednesday. Prices, $1.50 to 25c. No need for anyone to miss this splendid concert. See advertisement.

Miss Wayne, as Rhr. MacChesney, has a very difficult part which she fills in a very gratifying manner. In fact, every member of our company have worked extra hard to insure a smooth production of this play. New entirely to this part of the country, it's a play with a punch, appealing, and yet plentifully sprinkled with comedy.

This week our critical patrons should turn out in large numbers and welcome Mr. Amstworth Arnold, our new lead, who has just been secured from a most successful eastern tour, and a brilliant season in Canada.

We beg to draw our patrons' attention to the new arrangement of hours for the box office. On and after September 26, the box office will be open from 9 a. m. to 11:30 a. m.; from 12:30 p. m. to 5 p. m.; and from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

The theater is always maintained at comfortable temperature, well ventilated and scrupulously clean.

Prices: Nights, 75c to 25c; matinees, 50c to 25c.

Late comers must not expect to be seated after curtain is raised. This rule of any good house must be lived up to in fairness to those already seated. Please help us to avoid friction.

The class of plays and players at The Burns cannot be given at lower prices.

Our stock company—now strengthened by that versatile footlight favorite, Amstworth Arnold—will continue to give you the best in all lines. This week's offering is entirely new to Colorado Springs—we are staging this with our usual care and fidelity.

DIXIE GIRLS AT THE SAVOY

The Dixie Girls Musical Comedy company presented "Charley's Sweetheart" at the Savoy theater, last night, to a capacity house. Their performance is a very pleasing one, and the acts they give are clean and entertaining. Their musical numbers are bright and catchy and the dances very pretty. They carry 15 people and a lot of very pretty girls. Tonight they will give "The Seminary Girls," and on Wednesday, "The Dixie Girls Minstrels." Although they give a 50-cent show, the price of admission is only 20 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

A feature of the performance tonight and Wednesday will be "The Lame Hotentot."

MUSIC AT THE BURNS

The United States Marine band is not only the foremost military band of the United States, but ranks with the very best of this class of musical organization in the world. Persons who heard the famous German and French bands and the equally renowned British Fusiliers band at the Boston Jubilee declare that the Marine band today is in every respect the equal of it. It does not surpass in excellence any of the world-famous musical organizations. The Marine band, unlike Minerva, who "sprang" full panoplied from the front of "Jove," has risen from a small beginning to its present proportion and eminence. It has not always been fostered with the case now bestowed upon it. Its leaders, able and good musicians, did not in every instance carry within themselves that peculiar gift of welding different personalities and characteristics into one harmoniously blended whole. Today the Marine band is musically compact; its work is symphonically attractive; no one can hear its music and fail to recognize the spirit of unity that pervades every one of the musicians.

Such is the band which the people of our city will have the privilege to

BOOSTERS FOR GOOD ROADS HOLD MEETING

Convention American Road Congress in Atlantic City for Five Days

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 30.—The American Road Congress opened here today, to continue until October 4, inclusive.

It is intended that this congress to take up the subject of building better roads more thoroughly than has ever been done before in this country. From the attitude of the delegates and visitors to the congress it is apparent that they are all enthusiasts determined to give to the cause of public roads the greatest impetus it has yet received.

One of the chief organizations represented at the congress is the American Bar Association. The delegates from this association are Frederick B. Wadsworth of Albany, N. Y., William T. Schier of Boston and Henry D. Westbrook of New York city. The association, through these delegates, will have charge of the legislative section of the congress, one of the chief purposes of which is to frame a definite legislative program to be supported consistently in the future by all of the societies allied with the congress.

Another important feature of the congress will be the conference of the leading educational institutions of the country under the auspices of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education. One of the great problems that confronts the congress is the insufficient supply of engineers to carry on the work of public road building. It is therefore the object of this conference of educational institutions to see into the matter thoroughly and to see if the various colleges and universities of the country cannot supply the required number of engineers to carry on the work contemplated.

The congress is presided over by Logan Waller Page, director of the United States office of public roads, who in welcoming the delegates and visitors to the congress, made an impressive speech.

hear at a concert to be given Monday afternoon, October 1, at The Burns. It is a full 10 years since the Marine band was permitted to travel as far west as the Rocky mountains. It is 20 years since last its strains were heard in the cities of the Pacific coast states. The present trip, therefore, is a graceful invitation to the people of nearly every state west of the Mississippi to enjoy the delightful performances with which the band is permitted to regale them. Those who have been fortunate enough to hear the band in Washington, when it led the inaugural parade, or played at the inaugural ball, or who listened to its music at any of the concerts given by it at the White House, or in front of the Capitol, or at the Marine barracks will need no special urging to attend when the band comes to our city, and those who have not had that opportunity cannot afford to miss so rare a treat.

LICENSE GRANTED OVER
PROTEST OF MAYOR HAMBLE

At a called meeting of the city council last night, held to permit the approving of the payroll and to grant liquor licenses for the coming six months, the aldermen allowed a license to Henry Geising over the protest of Mayor E. J. Hamble. According to the mayor, Geising's place has been anything but orderly during the past, and he was against giving the man a license. The aldermen took a different view of the matter, and the license was practically allowed, although it will be necessary for Geising to have his bond approved at another meeting of the council.

The sexton at the cemetery, Charles Hill, was discharged, and P. W. Hochman, assistant sexton, given his place. There will be no assistant in the future. Two park workmen were laid off. An auditing committee was appointed, composed of Leo Doran and Otto Quersky.

The following liquor licenses were granted: R. E. Chipman, J. J. Lacey, Hopper & Zobel, Abbey, Nickell & Thompson, Schmidt & Son, A. Perrine, Schwartz & Braun and Henry Geising.

COL. GEORGE MURDOCK AS BARON LUDDPH IN "BARRIERS BURNED AWAY" AT THE OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT.

Due to the fact that Miss Laura Forrest, who created the role of "Christine Luddph" in the original production of "Barriers Burned Away," falling to make connection at Kansas City, the attraction did not open at the opera house last night, as advertised, but makes its premiere tonight, with a "kimono" matinee tomorrow afternoon and another performance at night.

The western company has been in town for three weeks, and the returns have been so satisfactory that the management was desirous in placing at its head the actress who created the emotional lead, and secured Miss Forrest at much additional expense to make the opening in Colorado Springs, but the "dates" deemed otherwise. The clever lady reaching the city only last night at about 11 o'clock.

"Barriers Burned Away" has been read by countless millions throughout the reading world, and there are few books having had a greater vogue. As a play it is said to excel the dramatic literature of any of the score or more of popular novels having been staged in its own three years, and with a valuable cast is sure to draw the school of pleasure in the community. Inasmuch as the company will play at the opera house for all of the week, changing the bill on Thursday night, it was decided to establish the popular scale of prices, and that the response will be great was evinced by the advance sale of seats.

A definite novelty will be provided tomorrow of the "kimono" matinee, particulars of which will appear in tomorrow's Gazette. However, it may be said this far in advance that lady patrons are not expected to attend the matinee performance in kimono, but that several of these useful garments will be awarded after the third act of the play.

Those who cannot reach the opera house box office in person may make reservations by telephone, but these will not be held later than 10 o'clock tonight.

Joe Wood Makes Homerun—Married After Big Series

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 30.—Joe Wood, premier pitcher of the American league, and the man depended upon by all New England to pitch the Red Sox into the world's championship against the Giants, will wed a Kansas City girl immediately after the big series is over.

The bride-to-be is Miss Laura O'Shea, daughter of S. F. O'Shea of 2611 Forest avenue. Miss O'Shea is wearing a handsome diamond ring from the young pitcher as a token of the engagement. Wood himself gave out the report of the engagement in a letter to a friend in this city, and Miss O'Shea today confirmed it.

The romance started when Wood was a member of the Kansas City Blues, five years ago. Miss O'Shea was an ardent baseball fan, and Wood's winning smiles and diamond magnetism soon won her attention. He, too, noticed the pretty girl in the grandstand, and they were introduced by a mutual friend. After Wood went to the big league he kept up his correspondence with Miss O'Shea, and the actual proposal, although it took place over the correspondence route, occurred a few weeks ago.

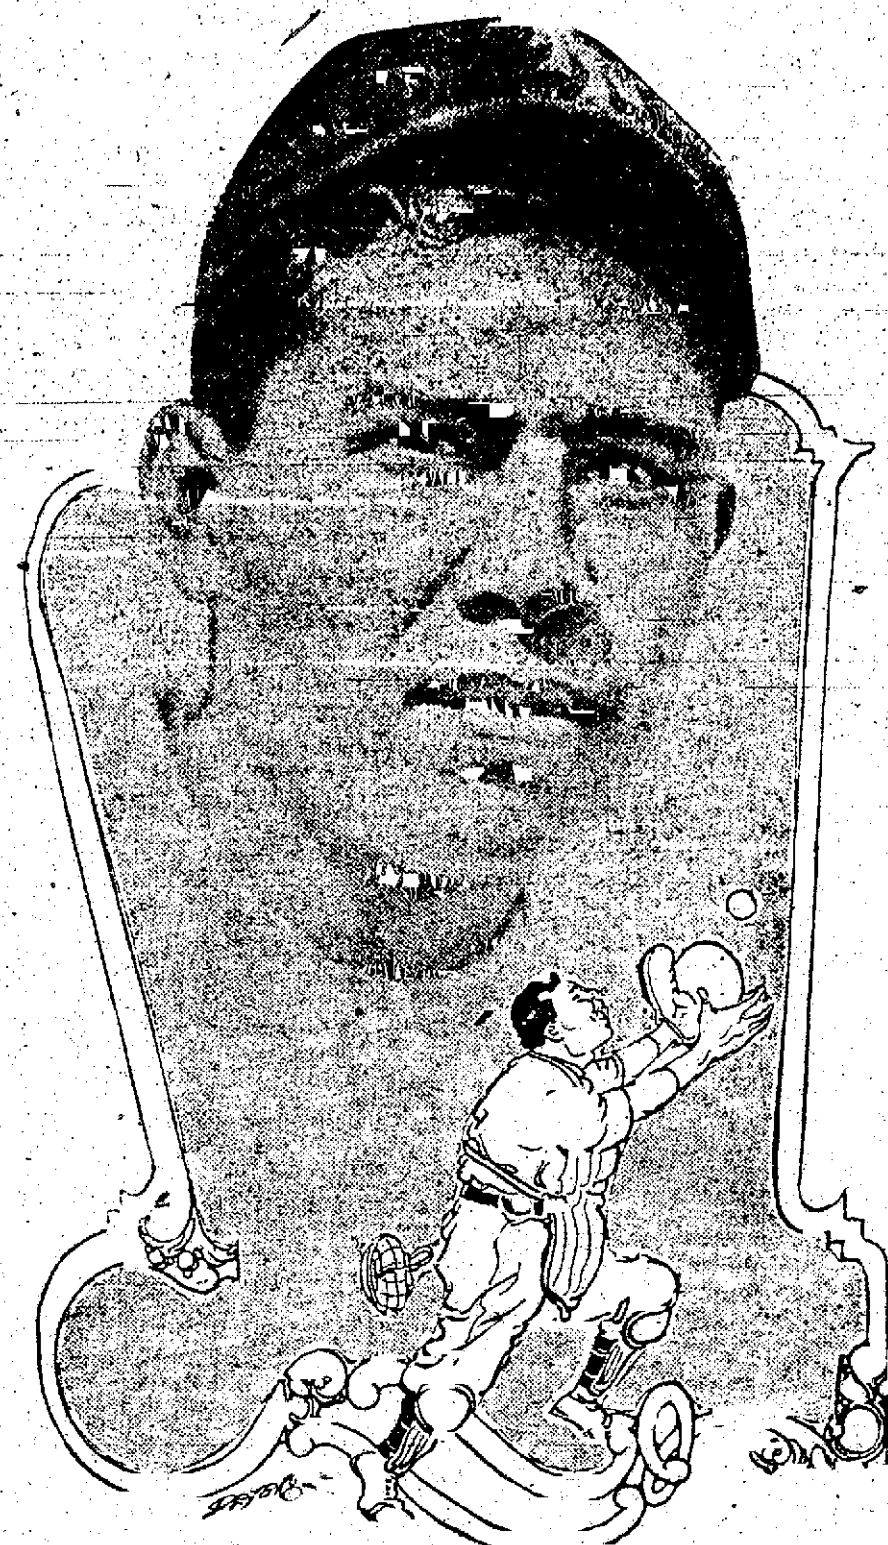

GIANTS NEW STAFF OF TWIRLERS BIG SURPRISE TO FANS

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Those following the concluding work of the New York Giants before the world series are surprised by the strength of McGraw's string of recruit pitchers. Such men as Demaree, Kirby, Goulet and Bader, all strange names in the Giants' lineup, have been tried out in the last few games, and helped to boost New York's showing.

In the last five games, the Giants lost only one. That was pitched by the so-called star of the team, Big Jeff Tesreau, against Boston, on Saturday. Today's victory was the one hundred and first for the Giants this season, one less than the string of Boston American victories to date.

John Heath, Michigan Bar, Cal., writes: "I was afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for nearly six years. Had a very bad spell some time ago and was unable to turn without help. I commenced using Foley Kidney Pills, and can truly say I was relieved at once. I take pleasure in recommending Foley Kidney Pills. The Robinson Drug Co."

SIX MANAGERIAL FAILURES WILL DROP NEXT SEASON

How many managerial failures will be recorded in the major leagues this year? The answer cannot be given until all the club owners whose hopes have been disappointed this season make up their minds about the next.

Tree Climbing Is Miller's Training for Thursday Bout

Charles Miller, the Police Gazette champion wrestler, who will mix at catch with Tommy Ryan at Temple theatre Thursday evening, has a brand new training stunt. It consists in tree climbing, and the husky matman says that there is nothing like scaling a high and knotty tree to develop all the muscles used in wrestling, and also in acrobatic stunts. Miller, who has been in Colorado some time, says he is ready for the go, and if he wins from Ryan, will challenge Delivuk and Durey.

Ryan is doing some strenuous work in his training, and says that this condition was never better. Both Harry Chase of Cedaredge and Mack, the local lightweight wrestling shark, are in form for their preliminary bout.

There are three possible candidates for the disband in the National League—Henry O'Day, formerly Hank; Bill Dahlen and John G. Kling. To those who know the conditions under which all three have labored there is no disposition to regard them as failures, but a change may be favored by the club owners.

O'Day probably would be in much greater favor in Cincinnati if the Reds had not gone out in front and raised high hopes of a pennant winning in the early spring. Hopes that were bound to be dashed because the material was not there for a championship team. O'Day has done as well as any man unfamiliar with what he was up against could be expected to do, and if Herrmann is wise O'Day will get another chance.

Kling was handicapped at the early part of the season by the attempts of President John M. Ward to run the club.

Harry Davis, who was signed to succeed McGuire when the veteran catcher resigned, but who could not get free from Philadelphia until the end of the season, found the situation confronting him in the Ohio town too rough for solution. There is no doubt the Cleveland club would have retained Stovall after his good showing if it had not been contracted with Davis. There was only one way for Davis to still the complaints and that was to win a pennant. He could not do that nor make as good a showing with the team as Stovall did. There was only one finish and Davis beat the club to it. What Cleveland will do for a manager next year is uncertain, but Birmingham has been given full control, and it is a cinch if the team braces up under him, President Sumner will not repeat the Stovall-Davis mistake.

Wolverton to Be Dropped?
There is only one other candidate for the ex-manager list in the American league. He is Harry Wolverton of the New York Yankees. Wolverton came from the Pacific coast with a great reputation, but found the conditions confronting him in the Gotham team a little different. There was an ex-manager among his players in the person of Hal Chase and a star holding out in the person of Eddie Sweeney, his only reliable catcher. Before those two problems were solved the Yankees were down and out, and in the last

Factory Loaded Shot-Shell
"Nublack" and "New Rival"

Loaded with Black Powder

The continued favor of "Nublack" and "New Rival" black powder shotshells among a large number of hunters is due to their improved construction and loading, which result in improved velocity, pattern and penetration. In these qualities, "Nublack" and "New Rival" shotshells are unsurpassed. Loaded only with standard brands of powder, shot and wadding by machines which are absolutely unerring in their operation, "Nublack" and "New Rival" shotshells are models of uniformity and sureness. They are made extra strong to stand reloading and the corrugation on the head, a patented feature, allows for expansion. To get satisfactory shells, be sure to ask for Winchester guns are made for all kinds of shooting and Winchester ammunition for all makes of firearms.

Financial Review

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Stock speculation last week strained successfully at the leash of the restricted money supplies. Prices advanced to new high ground, but were pulled back occasionally by the tightening of the money strain. Not only were available money resources in the market scant, but signs multiplied of the extraordinary volume of coming requirements.

The effect of increased borrowings quickly manifested itself in the rise in the call loan rate to the highest figure since the opening of 1910.

The marking up of accounts at these periodical stock market settlements disclosed large transfers of stock holdings from New York to take advantage of the London money market. This process enables borrowers to reduce obligations to New York banks. Hardening of conditions in London resulted, but last week's increase in the bank of England percentage of reserve argued well for the ability of London to supply further requirements in New York.

The prodigious movement of grain in primary markets has broken all records thus far in the season. Our shortage therefore was expected to be aggravated. August net earnings of some of the important railroads showed record figures, although the rush of grain was not yet in effect.

Increases in dividends on copper mining stocks were an influence on the strength of those stocks but warnings were heard against further increase of rate of copper production.

Iron and Steel

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The center of steel trade activity last week was transferred to the central west, where large sales of steel-making iron were made at sharply advancing prices. In the Pittsburgh district alone, sales of 100,000 tons of basic and 50,000 tons of Bessemer resulted in an advance of 50 cents to $1 per ton.

In the eastern territory, outside of Buffalo, transactions were lighter, less than 25,000 tons. There was also less activity in the south, but in all districts merchant sales exceeded 200,000 tons.

In finished steel products there was some decrease in the volume of new business and railroad equipment orders were disappointing, including only 32,000 tons of rails, 12,700 cars, 50 locomotives and less than 5,000 tons of structural steel. The principal activity was in bars, sheets, wire products and tin plate.
